Looking to Escape the New York Heat? Here Are 9 Must-See Shows Upstate Perfect for a Day Trip

As the summer weather settles in, here are a few excuses to hit the road, from Cold Spring to Germantown.

Welcome to This Week in Culture, a weekly agenda of show openings and events in major cities across the globe. From galleries to institutions and one-of-a-kind happenings, our ongoing survey highlights the best of contemporary culture, for those willing to make the journey.

“Remember to Dream” by Carrie Mae Weems

Where: Hessel Museum of Art, Annandale-On-Hudson

When: June 22 – December 1

Why It's Worth A Look: This major exhibition offers a fresh perspective on Carrie Mae Weems's influential career, showcasing lesser-known works that trace significant moments of racial reckoning in the United States. From intimate family portraits to large-scale installations, the show provides a powerful through-line from the Civil Rights Movement to Black Lives Matter, as seen through Weems's lens. Know Before You Go: The exhibition includes recent pieces such as Painting the Town, 2021, which addresses the 2020 protests, and Leave, Leave Now!, 2022, a video installation telling the story of Weems's grandfather's escape from the Jim Crow South.
